

FOR COLLEGE CHESS HONORS.

Yale - Harvard - Columbia - Princeton to Battle for the Challenge Cup.

AN INTERESTING TOURNAMENT WILL COMMENCE TOMORROW AND LAST HOLIDAY WEEK.

Harvard Won Three Times.

The chess clubs of Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia colleges have been very busy during the past few months preparing for the sixth annual contest for the intercollegiate challenge chess trophy, which is to be played in New York during the Christmas holidays. It has become the principal event of college chess in the past few years, and the interest has developed to a far greater extent than its projectors anticipated when they purchased the beautiful trophy six years ago.

The tournament is made up of two representatives of each college, who are selected by competitive play, the highest in the scores of the club tournaments being designated as holder for the trophy. The meeting this year will be held at the Columbia Grammar School, Nos. 34 and 36 East Fifty-first street, commencing tomorrow and continuing till January 1. Every representative of a college will play one game with each representative of every other college and the college team making the highest score holds the trophy for a year.

In the preliminary tournaments at Harvard, the men who reached the final round were H. C. Foulke, '98, academic; James Hewitt, Jr., '98, academic; F. W. Long, '98, academic; P. W. Thayer, '99, academic; W. C. Arenberg, '00, academic; C. F. G. Arenberg, '01, academic; H. V. Poor, '02, academic; J. Davis, special; E. B. Southern, Medical.

The winners who will represent Harvard are Southern and Hewitt, with Long and Thayer as substitutes.

At Yale the leaders in the preliminary tournament were F. A. Lohbach, '98, academic; L. A. Cook, '00, academic; A. C. Pickett, '01, academic; H. Logan, '00, academic; A. M. Webb, '01, academic; W. M. Mordoch, '02, Scientific.

Yale's players will be Cook and Mordoch, with Pickett and Logan as substitutes. At Columbia there were two sections in the preliminary tournaments, the leaders in the final being G. O. Seward, '98, Scientific; A. W. Parker, Jr., '99, Scientific; H. A. Bodan, '00, Scientific; H. G. Falk, '01, Scientific; J. B. Mitchell, '99, college; R. Jacobus, '99, college; B. M. Ernest, '99, college; S. W. Denzer, '99, college; G. Parker, '00, college; A. S. Meyer, '01, college.

The players for Columbia will be Seward and Meyer, with Falk and Jacobus as substitutes.

The Princeton tournaments were well contested, the survivors in the final being J. A. Byr, Jr., '99, scientific; R. P. Elmer, '99, scientific; Charles Horvath, '99, scientific; W. W. Young, '99, scientific; E. D. Carter, '00, scientific; D. T. Dana, '01, scientific; E. B. Southern, '02, scientific.

The players for Princeton will be Young and Dana, with Carter and Hale as substitutes.

In the five previous tournaments Columbia won the first two, 1892 and 1893, and Harvard has won the last three, 1894, 1895, 1896.

THE CHALLENGE CUP.

In 1892, through the efforts of Edward A. Caswell, a New York merchant, a subscription was raised among the members of the Alumni associations of the four colleges for the intercollegiate challenge chess trophy. In the list of donors Yale is represented by Dr. Caswell, M. C. Edwards, Brookline; W. B. Chittenden, Brookline; F. H. Betts, S. H. Chapman, and E. C. Steadman; Harvard by H. B. Butler, John C. Greenough, James Higginson, Edward King and H. V. Poor; Columbia donors were W. Hazard Cutting, George L. Rogers, and around 1894, when the trophy was presented to Princeton, was represented by Cleveland H. Dodge, of Phelps, Dodge & Co., and around 1895, when the trophy was presented to Yale, by Edward Hynes, for Columbia, Cleveland H. Dodge, for Princeton, and Professor William Friedman, of the New York Harvard School, for Harvard.

The cup is of sterling silver and was designed and made by Tiffany. It is 22 1/2 inches in height, and the base is a circular top. Its capacity is about thirteen pints. It is handsomely engraved with chess and college scenes, and the names of the donors of the four colleges. The cup is valued at $500. A college to hold it must win it ten times consecutively.

In the tournament the piling for the six rounds is as follows:

First Round, December 27—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Second Round, December 28—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Third Round, December 29—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Fourth Round, December 30—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Fifth Round, December 31—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Sixth Round, January 1—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Games will be commenced each day at 2 P. M. and all unfinished games at 10 P. M. will be continued by the winner. An intermission will be taken from 6 to 8.

Live Bird Matches at Red Bank.

Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 25.—A bluecock shot at 100 birds for $100 a side took place today on the Riverside Gun Club grounds between Oscar B. Redbank and William Watts, of Keyport. Home won with 23 birds, scoring 80. A match at fifty birds was shot between Henry C. White and James Cooper, the latter winning by the score of 42 to 41. Sweetpeaks matches were won by Watts, who beat James Cooper and John Cooper.

Ice Yachting on Orange Lake.

Newburgh, N. Y., Dec. 25.—The ice yachting season opened on Orange Lake today. Two of the best of the Orange Lake ice yachts, the "Cassius" and "Hudson," were out on the ice, and a number of new ones having been added this season, leading for valuable trophies will begin next Monday.

ATTENTION, SINGERS!

All singers who desire to volunteer for the great midnight chorus on New Year's eve at the City Hall, when the flag of the Greater New York will be solemnly raised, will please report to Professor Francesco Pannofili at the Grand Central Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

SIX-DAY RACE MEN GIVE TESTIMONY.

Managers of the Affair Explain What They Know About the Short Track.

NO VERDICT ANNOUNCED.

The L. A. W. Committee Will Probably Find Ashinger Grossly Negligent.

In star chamber session at the Grand Union Hotel yesterday an investigating committee met to listen to testimony in the short track scandal which remains as the lone remnant of the so-called cruel six-day race. With the testimony all in and taken by experts, the matter must be laid now before the members of the Racing Board, who were not present, before a final decision may be made.

A little of a sensational nature could come from behind closed doors, and few witnesses beyond those present in the courtroom in the contest and in the construction of the short track were heard during the day.

The investigating chamber consisted of Chairman Albert Mott, of Baltimore, Md.; A. D. Walte, of Colles, New York member of the Board; Herman W. Foltz, of Indianapolis, the affairs manager of the board; and W. B. Potter, president of the League of American Wheelmen, and Chief Counsel Conway W. Sams, of Maryland, who acted as counsel for the board.

The members of the American Cycle Racing Association, Messrs. Powers, Brady, Kennedy and H. J. Greenough, James Higginson, Edward King and H. V. Poor, Columbia donors were W. Hazard Cutting, George L. Rogers, and around 1894, when the trophy was presented to Princeton, was represented by Cleveland H. Dodge, of Phelps, Dodge & Co., and around 1895, when the trophy was presented to Yale, by Edward Hynes, for Columbia, Cleveland H. Dodge, for Princeton, and Professor William Friedman, of the New York Harvard School, for Harvard.

The cup is of sterling silver and was designed and made by Tiffany. It is 22 1/2 inches in height, and the base is a circular top. Its capacity is about thirteen pints. It is handsomely engraved with chess and college scenes, and the names of the donors of the four colleges. The cup is valued at $500. A college to hold it must win it ten times consecutively.

In the tournament the piling for the six rounds is as follows:

First Round, December 27—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Second Round, December 28—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Third Round, December 29—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Fourth Round, December 30—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Fifth Round, December 31—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Sixth Round, January 1—Yale (Columbia) vs. Harvard (Princeton); Seward (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton); Mordoch (Yale) vs. Southern (Harvard); Cook (Yale) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Parker (Columbia) vs. Hewitt (Harvard); Bodan (Columbia) vs. Young (Princeton).

Games will be commenced each day at 2 P. M. and all unfinished games at 10 P. M. will be continued by the winner. An intermission will be taken from 6 to 8.

Live Bird Matches at Red Bank.

Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 25.—A bluecock shot at 100 birds for $100 a side took place today on the Riverside Gun Club grounds between Oscar B. Redbank and William Watts, of Keyport. Home won with 23 birds, scoring 80. A match at fifty birds was shot between Henry C. White and James Cooper, the latter winning by the score of 42 to 41. Sweetpeaks matches were won by Watts, who beat James Cooper and John Cooper.

Ice Yachting on Orange Lake.

Newburgh, N. Y., Dec. 25.—The ice yachting season opened on Orange Lake today. Two of the best of the Orange Lake ice yachts, the "Cassius" and "Hudson," were out on the ice, and a number of new ones having been added this season, leading for valuable trophies will begin next Monday.

ATTENTION, SINGERS!

All singers who desire to volunteer for the great midnight chorus on New Year's eve at the City Hall, when the flag of the Greater New York will be solemnly raised, will please report to Professor Francesco Pannofili at the Grand Central Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.

Palace, Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, on Monday (to-morrow) night, at half past 7 o'clock. This chorus will be accompanied by a band of a hundred and twenty pieces, with artillery and chiming. It is entirely independent of the choruses to be sung earlier by the United German Singing Societies of New York and Brooklyn.